QUESTION 2: SOUTH AFRICAN ARTISTS INFLUENCED BY AFRICAN AND/OR INDIGENOUS ART FORMS

FIGURE 2a is a collaboration between Jaco Van Schalkwyk and sculptor, Allen Laing. The artwork was exhibited in walk-in cubicles placed in the gallery allowing visitors to step into the cubicle and interact with the artworks. This removes the idea/concept of the glass barrier which is used in most Western museums, acting as a protective device between the viewer and the artwork. The artwork, Retroquire xiGubu, focuses on contrasting African figurines with Western functional objects, like kitchen scales. The artwork can also rotate in a circular movement as soon as the viewer presses on the pedal at the bottom of the stand. FIGURE 2b represents a still life painting of African figurines, painted by German expressionist, Max Pechstein.

2.1 Refer to FIGURES 2a and 2b and discuss the following:

- Why the artist has used westernised everyday objects in FIGURE 2a
- The significance of bringing movement into this work
- Why FIGURE 2a is not exhibited behind a glass barrier and motivate your answer
- Possible influences in FIGURE 2b
- Differences of scale, contrast and texture in FIGURES 2a and 2b. (8)

2.2 Discuss TWO artworks by different artists whose work expresses their African identity due to the influences of indigenous African art forms.

Use the following guidelines:

- The influences of indigenous African art forms and symbols
  - Art elements and principles of art
  - Style and technique
  - Possible messages/meanings (12)

QUESTION 3: SOCIO-POLITICAL ART, INCLUDING RESISTANCE ART OF THE 1970s AND 1980s

Many artists have used Goya's The Third of May 1808 as inspiration in their own portrayals of political murders. In FIGURE 3b Tammam Azzam uses Goya's painting which he projects against bombed buildings, drawing attention to the tragedy of the Syrian war.

- 3.1 Both images represent a tragedy in the world. Elaborate on this statement by discussing the following:
- Any THREE aspects that makes us aware that these artworks are representative of a tragedy
  - The use of colour and the possible symbolism/mood in both visual sources
  - Focal point
  - The effect of lighting in FIGURE 3a
  - Why do you think the artist has used specific sites to project his artwork?
  - Perspective and composition
- (10)
- 3.2 Compare how any TWO artworks by different artists have expressed past/current socio-political issues in their work. (10)
- [20]

Goya: a Spanish artist from the early 19th century whose painting The Third of May 1808 is based on the atrocities of war

Syria: A war-torn Middle Eastern country

QUESTION 4: ART, CRAFT AND SPIRITUAL WORKS MAINLY FROM RURAL SOUTH AFRICA

Weaving is a traditional craft that has been practised for centuries. Traditionally, baskets were made for functional, religious, and commercial purposes. Today, current artists are influenced and inspired by this traditional craft resulting in new and exciting artworks.

4.1 Discuss the craft of weaving and the influence on new artists.

Refer to the following in your discussion:

- Types of materials that can be used for both traditional and contemporary weaving
- The impact of line and texture in FIGURE 4d
- Use of colour and pattern in FIGURES 4b and 4c
- Functions of the baskets in FIGURES 4b, 4c and 4d
- Influences and aesthetic appeal (8)

4.2 Discuss the works of any TWO craft artists and/or spiritual artists you have studied.

Use the following guidelines:

- Influences
  - Art elements
  - Techniques and materials
  - Functionality (12)

QUESTION 5: MULTIMEDIA AND NEW MEDIA – ALTERNATIVE CONTEMPORARY AND POPULAR ART FORMS IN SOUTH AFRICA

In both FIGURES 5a and 5b animal elements are visible. Frances Goodman is interested in using false nails as a metaphor while Nandipha Mntambo combines the female body with animal skin.

5.1 Analyse FIGURES 5a and 5b by considering the following:

- Elaborate on the possible metaphorical/symbolic meaning of the artist's choice of medium
- The animal elements visible and the effect on the viewer
- How movement has been created
- Similarities and differences
- Possible messages and meanings (10)

5.2 Discuss any TWO South African artworks that show the use of multi-media/new media in an interesting and new way.

Use the following guidelines:

- Content
  - Influences
  - Media and techniques
  - Art elements
  - Meaning and messages (10)

QUESTION 7: GENDER ISSUES: MASCULINITY AND FEMININITY

Jody Paulson is a Cape Town artist whose work comments on gender. He works on a very large scale and attaches felt cut-outs to his boards.

7.1 Comment on how Jody Paulsen addresses gender by referring to the following:

- Gender aspects
- The imagery and the possible meanings/symbolism
- Art elements
- Reasons for working on a large scale. Substantiate your answer.
- The use of symmetry in the artwork
- Why the artwork resembles a badge, token or a shield
- Your interpretation of the title

(10)

7.2 Discuss the work of any TWO artists whose works address gender and/or the expected roles men and women have to fulfil in society.

Use the following guidelines:

- Content/Imagery
- Art elements
- Technique and media
- Portrayal of gender issues
- Possible meaning and messages

QUESTION 8: ARCHITECTURE IN SOUTH AFRICA

The lack of housing as well as the provision of shelter for the poor, are often the points of departure for innovative architectural designs. People who started building with recycled materials are perceived as pioneers of new designs.

With reference to the above statement and to the structures in FIGURES 8a to 8c, write an essay in which you agree/disagree that change in architecture will contribute to the housing issues we are facing in South Africa.

Consider the following:

- The significance of recycled material
- The advantages and disadvantages of using recycled materials
- Sustainability
- With reference to the following, discuss any TWO other architectural examples that you have studied which you have found to be truly innovative:
  - Stylistic characteristics
  - Building and construction methods
  - The architect's responsibility to the environment and sustainability
